Sentence Starters: English Language

Use the following sentence starters to craft an effective English Language response. You may need to adapt the sentence starters to fit the question! Use them as a baseline and change as you need to.

Contents

Question 2 Paper One 1

Question 3 Paper 1 3

Question 4 Paper One 4

Question 4 Paper Two 5

Question 2 Paper One & Question 3 Paper Two

- Fill the 2 pages in the exam booklet if possible; 1 or 2 paragraphs
- Analyse around 4+ quotations & 4+ methods
- Blue = developed/alternate explanations
- List of Possible Language Methods:
    - 3x connotations of key words
    - Symbolism, metaphor and simile
    - Tone
    - Semantic Fields
    - Sentence Type
    - Imagery

The writer [INSERT NAME OF WRITER] uses language to [INSERT QUESTION STEER] to the reader in Text [INSERT NAME OF TEXT 1]. A key moment this becomes apparent is when [INSERT QUOTATION 1]. The writer perhaps uses [INSERT LANGUAGE DEVICE 1] to explore [INSERT QUESTION STEER] since [INSERT EXPLANATION]. Indeed, some readers might go further and note that [INSERT DEVELOPED EXPLANATION]. Another striking example of the writer's use of language to [INSERT QUESTION STEER] is when [INSERT QUOTATION 2]. Here the writer may use [INSERT LANGUAGE DEVICE 2] to explore [INSERT QUESTION STEER] since [INSERT EXPLANATION]. A more perceptive reading might develop this to note that [INSERT DEVELOPED EXPLANATION]. A further notable use of language can be seen when [INSERT QUOTATION 3]. In this instance, the writer uses [INSERT METHOD 3] to convey [INSERT EXPLANATION]. Moreover, the writer might also use [METHOD 3] to suggest [INSERT DEVELOPED EXPLANTION]. A final example of the writer's use of language to [INSERT QUESTION STEER] is when [INSERT QUOTATION4]. The writer perhaps uses [INSERT LANGUAGE DEVICE 4] to explore [INSERT QUESTION STEER] because [INSERT EXPLANATION]. Some readers might even argue that [INSERT DEVELOPED EXPLANATION]. Consequently, what each example shows is how the writer [INSERT NAME OF WRITER] uses language to [INSERT QUESTION STEER] to the reader in Text [INSERT NAME OF TEXT 1].

Question 2 Paper Two

- Fill the 2 pages in the exam booklet if possible; 2-3 short paragraphs
- Include 6 quotations and 3 inferences about the similarities/differences
- Blue = developed/alternate inferences

The reader can infer one key difference between the two texts concerning [INSERT QUESTION STEER] to be [INSERT ONE PERCEPTIVE DIFFERENCE]. A key moment this becomes apparent is when in text one, we see [INSERT QUOTATION TEXT 1] and in text two we observe [INSERT QUOTATION TEXT 2]. From this, the reader can infer [INSERT ONE BASIC INFERENCE]. A more perceptive inference might go further to consider {INSERT SECOND DEEPER INFERENCE].

The reader can infer a second key difference between the two texts in relation to [INSERT QUESTION STEER] to be [INSERT ONE PERCEPTIVE DIFFERENCE]. This becomes clear when in text one, we see [INSERT QUOTATION TEXT 1] and in text two we observe [INSERT QUOTATION TEXT 2]. From this, the reader can infer [INSERT ONE BASIC INFERENCE]. A more thoughtful inference might go further to consider {INSERT SECOND DEEPER INFERENCE].

The reader can infer a third difference between the two texts about [INSERT QUESTION STEER] since [INSERT ONE PERCEPTIVE DIFFERENCE]. This becomes obvious when in text one, we read [INSERT QUOTATION TEXT 1], whilst in text two we notice [INSERT QUOTATION TEXT 2]. From these two quotations, the reader can infer [INSERT ONE BASIC INFERENCE]. A more conceptual inference might go deeper to consider {INSERT SECOND DEEPER INFERENCE].

Question 3 Paper 1

- Fill the 2 pages in the exam booklet if possible; 1 long paragraph or 3 shorter ones for beginning>middle>end
- Include 3-6 quotations, 3-6 methods
- List of Key Structural Methods:
    - Structural development/contrast of focus
        - E.g. focal shifts from interior to exterior; macro to micro; general to specific
    - Structural development/contrast of tone or mood
        - E.g. tonal shifts
    - Structural development/contrast of character
        - E.g. character arcs
- Other Structural Methods:
    - Structural development/contrast of setting
    - A structural development/contrast of event
    - A structural development/contrast of time
        - E.g. non-linear flashbacks or memories
    - A structural development/contrast of style
        - E.g. external action/dialogue/description to inner monologue
        - E.g. short sentences to mirror X or long sentences to mirror Y
- Key for paragraph:
    - Yellow = structural point in text (beginning/middle/end)
    - Blue = developed/alternate explanations
    - Purple = link back the end to the beginning

In the exposition and opening, the writer [INSERT NAME OF WRITER] uses structure to [INSERT QUESTION STEER] for the reader in Text [INSERT NAME OF TEXT 1]. A key moment this becomes apparent is when [INSERT QUOTATION/REFERENCE 1] and [INSERT QUOTATION/REFERENCE 2]. The writer perhaps uses [INSERT STRUCTURAL DEVICE 1 AND/OR 2] to explore [INSERT QUESTION STEER] since [INSERT EXPLANATION]. Indeed, some readers might go further and note that [INSERT DEVELOPED EXPLANATION]. As the text develops into the rising action and climax, another striking example of the writer's use of structure to [INSERT QUESTION STEER] is when [INSERT SECOND QUOTATION/REFERENCE 1] and [INSERT SECOND QUOTATION/REFERENCE 2]. Here the writer might use [INSERT STRUCTUAL DEVICE 1 AND/OR 2] to develop [INSERT QUESTION STEER] for the reader since [INSERT EXPLANATION]. A more perceptive reading might develop this to note that [INSERT DEVELOPED EXPLANATION]. Towards the end, falling action and denouement of the extract, we observe the writer's use of structure to [INSERT QUESTION STEER] for the reader when [INSERT SECOND QUOTATION/REFERENCE 1] and [INSERT SECOND QUOTATION/REFERENCE 2]. The writer perhaps uses [INSERT STRUCTURAL DEVICE 1 AND/OR 2] to explore [INSERT QUESTION STEER] because [INSERT EXPLANATION]. Some readers might even go on to argue that [INSERT DEVELOPED EXPLANATION]. In fact, in many ways, the ending may _____ [DEVELOP/CONTRAST] with the beginning since _____ [INSERT EXPLANATION]. Consequently, what each example shows is how the writer [INSERT NAME OF WRITER] uses structure to [INSERT QUESTION STEER] to the reader in Text [INSERT NAME OF TEXT 1].

Question 4 Paper One

- Write 2-3 pages, 2 paragraphs
- Include 3 quotations & 3 methods per paragraph
- Green = evaluation

Agree Sentence Starters

On balance, I agree/disagree with the statement that _____ [INSERT STATEMENT] owing to the fact that _____ [INSERT ONE OR TWO IDEAS].

I partly agree with the statement that [INSERT STATEMENT] because of the writer's presentation of [INSERT IDEA 1]. This becomes most significant when [INSERT QUOTATION 1]. Although some readers might argue [GO AGAINST STATEMENT] because [INSERT SHORT EXPLANATION], most readers would probably agree [GO WITH THE STATEMENT]. The writer's use of [INSERT METHOD 1] makes this clearer because [INSERT ANALYSIS OF METHOD 1]. Another moment where the statement becomes clear is when [INSERT QUOTATION 2]. The writer's use of [INSERT METHOD 2] only makes the statement more compelling because [INSERT ANALYSIS OF METHOD 2]. A final moment in the text where the statement's truth becomes obvious is when _____ [INSERT QUOTATION 3]. The use of _____ [INSERT METHOD 3] further reinforces the statement because _____ [INSERT ANALYSIS OF METHOD 3]. Consequently, to evaluate _____ [INSERT NAME OF TEXT], I would agree with the statement because _____ [INSERT EXPLANATION].

Disagree Sentence Starters

On other hand, I partly disagree with the statement that [INSERT STATEMENT] because of the writer's exploration of [INSERT IDEA 2]. This becomes obvious when [INSERT QUOTATION 1]. Although some readers might argue [GO WITH THE STATEMENT] because [INSERT SHORT EXPLANATION], most readers would probably argue [GO AGAINST THE STATEMENT]. The writer's use of [INSERT METHOD 1] makes this clearer because [INSERT ANALYSIS OF METHOD 1]. Another moment where the statement becomes clear is when [INSERT QUOTATION 2]. The writer's use of [INSERT METHOD 2] makes this viewpoint against the statement compelling because [INSERT ANALYSIS OF METHOD 2]. A final instance where the viewpoint against the statement becomes convincing is when _____ [INSERT QUOTATION 3]. Perhaps the writers use of [INSERT METHOD 3] further this position because _____ [INSERT ANALYSIS OF METHOD 3]. Consequently, to evaluate _____ [INSERT NAME OF TEXT], I would disagree with the statement because_____ [INSERT EXPLANATION].

Ultimately, I agree/disagree with the statement because _____ [INSERT ONE OR TWO IDEAS], a position that finds its strongest support in _____ [INSERT REFERENCE TO STRONGEST EVIDENCE].

Question 4 Paper Two

- Write 2-3 pages, 2 paragraphs
- Include 3 quotations & 3 methods per paragraph
- Focus on any language or structural techniques, however, mark schemes often reward:
    - Tone (emotional register of the two sources – note too any tonal shifts)
    - Perspective (who is speaking? What form? What are their differing points of view?)

Comparing both texts, we can see that _____ [INSERT TEXT ONE OR TEXT TWO] presents _____ [INSERT QUESTION STEER] as _____ [INSERT KEY IDEA], whilst _____ [INSERT TEXT ONE OR TEXT TWO] presents _____ [INSERT QUESTION STEER] as _____ [INSERT KEY IDEA 2].

Comparing both texts, we see both writers explore [QUESTION STEER] as [INSERT IDEA ONE]. Indeed, in Text One, the writer explores [QUESTION STEER] through [INSERT QUOTATION]. By comparison, in Text Two, the writer presents [QUESTION STEER] through [INSERT QUOTATION]. In the first case, the reader sees that text [ONE/TWO] presents [QUESTION STEER] through the use of [LANGUAGE/STRUCTURAL DEVICE]. This is because [INSERT ANALYSIS OF DEVICE]. A more thoughtful reader might develop this further, and also note the deliberate choice of [INSERT LANGUAGE/STRUCTURAL DEVICE #2]. This could further develop the idea of [INSERT ANALYSIS OF LANGUAGE/STRUCTURAL DEVICE #2]. On the other hand, we see that text [ONE/TWO] is presents [QUESTION STEER] through the writer's use of [INSERT METHOD] which supports this idea because [INSERT ANALYSIS]. A more perceptive reading might go further and note the simultaneous use of [INSERT

LANGUAGE/STRUCTURAL DEVICE #2]. This only deepens the idea of [INSERT ANALYSIS OF LANGUAGE/STRUCTURAL DEVICE #2]. Consequently, whilst Text 1 presents [INSERT QUESTION STEER] as [INSERT ANALYSIS OF TEXT 1], Text 2 presents [INSERT QUESTION STEER] as [INSERT ANALYSIS OF TEXT 2].

To further compare both texts, we see both writers explore [QUESTION STEER] as [INSERT IDEA ONE]. Indeed, in Text One, the writer explores [QUESTION STEER] through [INSERT QUOTATION]. By comparison, in Text Two, the writer presents [QUESTION STEER] through [INSERT QUOTATION]. In the first case, the reader sees that text [ONE/TWO] presents [QUESTION STEER] through the use of [LANGUAGE/STRUCTURAL DEVICE]. This is because [INSERT ANALYSIS OF DEVICE]. A more engaged reader might develop this further, and also note the intentional use of [INSERT LANGUAGE/STRUCTURAL DEVICE #2]. This could further develop the idea of [INSERT ANALYSIS OF LANGUAGE/STRUCTURAL DEVICE #2]. By contrast, we see that text [ONE/TWO] presents [QUESTION STEER] through the writer's use of [INSERT METHOD] which furthers this idea because [INSERT ANALYSIS]. A more critical reading might go further, and note the parallel use of [INSERT LANGUAGE/STRUCTURAL DEVICE #2]. This only reinforces the idea of [INSERT ANALYSIS OF LANGUAGE/STRUCTURAL DEVICE #2]. Consequently, whilst Text 1 presents [INSERT QUESTION STEER] as [INSERT ANALYSIS OF TEXT 1], Text 2 presents [INSERT QUESTION STEER] as [INSERT ANALYSIS OF TEXT 2].

Ultimately, I think that whilst both texts explore _____ [INSERT QUESTION STEER], _____ [INSERT TEXT ONE OR TEXT TWO] is perhaps more convincing than _____ [INSERT TEXT ONE OR TWO] owing to the fact that _____ [INSERT STRONGEST ANALYSIS TO SUPPORT EVALUATION].